Explanatory Notes

Please read this information when completing the entry form.

1. Tranche 1 / Tranche 2

Tranche 1 and Tranche 2 together form the IWC 2020 competition. Producers can decide which Tranche to enter - but wines of a particular vintage and non-vintage wine can only be entered once, in either Tranche 1 or Tranche 2. Different vintages of the same wine can be entered in one or both Tranches. For full details and deadlines please see at www.internationalwinechallenge.com

2. Discovery Tasting

The Discovery Tasting provides a platform to the UK market. Only wines that don't yet have an importer are eligible. The cost for entry is £70. If you request to pay in € or $, your price will be calculated using the current market rate. Two (2) extra samples of your wine are required. The cost to ship wines entered into the Discovery Tasting using the IWC shipping deal with Hellmann Beverage Logistics is £59.46. If you request to pay in € or $, your price will be calculated using the current market rate. Please see at IWC website for full details.

Select where you would most like to target buyers from. At the Discovery tasting your wines will be split into two separate areas, off-trade and on-trade for ease of selection by the buyers. Wines are also grouped by country, enabling tasters to browse through any section in which they are looking to fill gaps on their shelves or lists.

3. Wine Producer Details

The producer's contact details are essential, they validate the wine entered and are used for notification of results to the entrant and the media.

4. Wine Details

Please answer precisely. This ensures that your wine is in the correct tasting group. Correct grouping is essential for the fair and consistent judging and any incomplete or incorrect information may penalise your wine.

Wine Name: Any variation between the label and the entry form invites confusion for us, and may mean that your certificates are printed with the wrong wine name. Please do not include vintage even if it is on your label.

Vintage: This ensures that wines are grouped correctly, fairly and consistently for tasting. Note that wines tasted must be from a single blend.

Bottle Size: This informs consumers of the quantity of wine obtained for the quoted price.

Closure: This helps us with the event fault correlation and also identification.

Glass Colour: This is related to environmental information and assists with fault correlation.

Barcode Number: If the wine has a barcode it will assist us in setting up the tasting. Occasionally we cannot identify the wine just from the label. A barcode helps the IWC team in identifying the correct wine and ensures it is entered into the correct category for judging.

Official Quality Status: If your wine has an Official Quality Status, it ensures that wines are grouped correctly, fairly and consistently for tasting.

Country: The country, region and sub-region details enable us to group wines correctly, fairly and consistently for tasting.

Wine Colour: This is essential information for grouping wines and vital for consumers.

Wine Style: This is essential information for grouping wines and vital for consumers.

Residual Sugar Level: This ensures that wines are grouped correctly, fairly and consistently for tasting.

Oaked: This ensures that wines are grouped correctly, fairly and consistently for tasting.

Alcohol Level: Wine Duty levels are calculated using this information.

Classifications: This information allows consumers to search for wine of a particular regime. Vegetarian refers to wines produced without the use of additives that required animals to be killed. The use of eggs and dairy processing aids is acceptable for a vegetarian wine. Vegan refers to wines made using no animal derived ingredients. A Fair Trade wine must have Fair Trade certification.

Alcohol Level: Wine Duty levels are calculated using this information.

5. Grapes

Please state the principal three (3) grapes and percentages. For example Merlot 60%, Carbenet Sauvignon 30%, Cabernet Franc 10%.

All wines submitted must be made solely from the partial or complete alcoholic fermentation of grapes or grape must.

6. Production and Retail

The producer's contact details are essential, they validate the wine entered and are used for notification of results to the entrant and the media.

UK Importer: This is essential for us to locate the UK stockists of your wines for publicity purposes so customers can find your wines in the shops.

Number of bottles produced: Total Production for vintage or year.

FOB Price Per Bottle (if NOT available in the UK): Duty levels are calculated using this figure. This information is also required for wines entered into the Discovery Tasting.

Is this the first year of production for this wine, cuvee or vineyard: This information may make your wine eligible for the James Rogers Trophy.

Available in the UK: This information is very important for publicity purposes. If your wines are unavailable this will be quoted in the IWC mobile app and on our website.

UK Retail Price per bottle: This information dictates the wine's eligibility for a 'Great Value Wine of the Year' award and is also used in publications, book, app, and websites.

Bottles available to the UK market: This information dictates the wine's eligibility for a 'Great Value Wine of the Year' award.
